Unhappy Women!

No woman can be happy when her health is undermined. No woman can have good health while she suffers from female weakness, inflammation, ulceration or any disease of the delicate womanly organs. Nervous, sleepless, fretful, suffering in body and mind, she does not live but only exists.

More than a half a million such women have found a perfect and permanent cure for their diseased condition in the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Women cured by this remedy say it is a "wonderful medicine," so perfectly does it restore them to health and comeliness.

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription," neither does it contain opium, cocaine, nor any other harmful drug. It is in the strictest sense, an honest, temperance medicine. Its ingredients are purely vegetable, and it will agree with the most delicate constitution.

Don't be hypnotized, or over persuaded, into accepting a substitute. This medicine has a record that's worth far more than any difference in price. Sick and ailing women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, either personally or by letter, absolutely without charge or fee, thus avoiding the unpleasant questioning, offensive examinations and obnoxious local treatments considered necessary by many local practitioners. All correspondence treated as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Write without fear and without fee to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 603 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

These tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules regulate stomach, liver, bowels, cure Constipation and Bad Stomach, attended by foul breath. One or two for laxative, three or four for cathartic.

This great family Doctor Book FREE on receipt of 31 one-cent postage stamps to cover cost of mailing, or, in fine cloth binding $1.00. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 603 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

FOR LADIES, TOO.

They Can Stop Their Hair Falling Out With Herpelide.

Ladies who have thin hair and whose hair is falling out, can prevent the hair falling out, and thicken the growth, with Newbro's "Herpelide." Besides, Herpelide is one of the most agreeable hair dressings there is. Herpelide kills the dandruff germ that eats the hair out at the root. After the germ is destroyed, the root will shoot up, and the hair grow on as ever. Even a sample will convince any lady that Newbro's Herpelide is an indispensable toilet requisite. It contains no oil or grease, it will not stain or discolor. Sold by leading druggists. Send 1c in stamps for sample to The Herpelide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Suicide of a Millionaire.

As a sad ending to a life which had been overclouded with the pleasures of existence, Robert D. Ballantine, millionaire clubman and society leader, son of John H. Ballantine, multi-millionaire brewer of Newark, N. J., killed himself in the home of his mother in the latter city last Saturday night by firing a bullet into his right temple.

Young Ballantine was only 35 years old, although his swift course through life made him appear older.

The life of the young clubman was one pointed in rosy tints. He had devoted nearly all of his time in pursuit of pleasure. Ballantine went to Newark from Virginia last month to bring Thanksgiving joy to his mother. Failing health had forced him to go South with the advent of cold weather, but he had determined to spend Thanksgiving at home. There was a happy reunion of the family, and the next day the mother left for Maryland. The son decided, however, to remain at Newark a while longer.

Robert Ballantine had started in life with every opportunity which wealth, good looks and social position can give. His grandfather Peter B. Ballantine, was the founder of the big brewery which bears his name, and when he died his children inherited many millions.

Robert's father was John H. Ballantine, who left an estate of $5,000,000. Robert was one of the most promising sons of the wealthy brewer. He was graduated from Princeton and studied medicine in Virginia, but he soon spent more time attending to his social obligations than trying to follow the profession he had chosen.

A dispatch from Charlottesville says if the rumors which have been in circulation in that place the past week are true, the suicide of Robert D. Ballantine, of "Edge Hill," Albemarle county, son of the late millionaire brewer of Newark, N. J., may be attributed to a scheme of blackmailing of which the deceased is said to have fallen a victim. It is no secret that Ballantine recently gave up quite a sum of money, said by some to be as much as $15,000. The story, which is alleged to have concerned his personal habits, dated back to the November races at Benning, and it was soon after this, if the tale be true, that he paid various sums to three men, well known in the community, rather than have his name used in connection with the charge, which his friends say was not justified by the facts. He soon went north, never to return. The past week rumor became busy with his name, and an intimate friend by letter apprised him of what he had heard and urged him to return and clear up the story. It may be that this letter hastened the tragedy. Ballantine, after graduating at Princeton, went to the University of Virginia, where he took the degree of bachelor of law. He fell in love with the old southern institution and decided to prolong his stay there by studying medicine. Just before finishing this course, however, he withdrew from the university and soon thereafter purchased "Edge Hill," situated near "Monticello," and one of the most historic homes in Virginia. Here for the past two years he entertained lavishly his former college and fraternity mates. His income being large, he spent money freely, often to the advantage of those near him. On one occasion he handed his check for $10,000 to a letter carrier at the university postoffice. He was the contributor of the $10,000 copy of "The School of Athens," which now adorns the public hall of the university in the place of the one destroyed in the fire in that institution in 1896.

Protestant Episcopal Church.

In the dioceses of New York and Long Island last year the Living Church Annual, just out, reports that the Protestant Episcopal Church lost 1 per cent. in membership. In Brooklyn its membership fell from a growth of 4 per cent. last year to one per cent. this year. The loss on Long Island is due only, it is said, to the pruning of parish records.

The Diocese of New York, which includes the boroughs of Richmond, Manhattan and the Bronx, and counties on both sides of the Hudson river as far as Dutchess, the loss is almost wholly due to the wiping out of All Souls' parish. It had 900 members, but when the property was sold they disappeared.

The growth of the Episcopal Church throughout the country last year was 2 per cent. The previous year it was 3 per cent. Total membership is now put at $25,000, as against $27,000 last year. Income from all sources last year was $250,000 greater than the year before, or a total of about $16,300,000. Presbyterians gave $16,700 each to home missions last year. Episcopalians gave $20 each.

Figures show that last year it cost to maintain each Presbyterian church North $2,383, and to maintain each Episcopal Church $2,261.

The Episcopal Church is in dire need of additional clergy. The increase in clergy last year was 73, when the need was for about 200.

Like Unto Gem on a Corpse.

"The American Club Woman is a female anachronism. She reminds me of a diamond in the shirt bosom of a corpse. It stands out glaringly against the dead matter it adorns. She is a stranger to her children, if she has any, and her profile is the object of more carcases than either her children or her husband. The latter, like Mrs. McGinty, is the silent partner who for the bills and draws his satisfaction from the fact that his name appears on the calling cards of his wife."

With these words Rabbi Isador Philo, of the High Street Temple, dropped a bombshell into the ranks of club women of Akron, O., at a meeting of the local Council of Women, at First Church of Christ, Saturday afternoon. One hundred club women heard the rabbi's remarks.

"Cradles have gone out of style as well as what they were intended for," he continued. "Children today are more often the accidents of nature than the fruit of conjugal love and fidelity."

Completes Virginia History.

The State Library has received from London a handwritten copy of the official and true record of the House of Burgesses of Virginia for 1776. The event is of great historic significance. Portions of the records of the famous old body, which antedates all other English institutions in the world, and which was in existence before the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth, have been stored away in the library for years. Frequent gaps in the records made a complete collection of them out of the questions.

Some time ago Librarian Kennedy undertook to gather the records into a volume, and the first volume attracted the attention of scholars throughout the country. In the North Carolina trade papers, preserved in the public records office of the British Museum, a portion of the journals was discovered, and these, with the records there and elsewhere, now give an unbroken record of the historical body.

Groom Says "Yes," Bride Says "No."

A dispatch from Hamburg, says: A bridal couple on Friday last came before the registrar in a small town in Mecklenburg. The official in due formula asked the bridegroom if he would take the woman as his wedded wife. He answered: "No, I must think the matter over."

There was consternation and protestation among the assembled company, and the bridegroom finally asked for an hour in which to reflect. He then shut himself up alone in a room and spent an hour meditating on his future. At the end of that time the couple made their second appearance before the registrar. The bridegroom replied to the usual question with a joyful "Yes!" The official then asked the bride the same question. Her reply was very loud and distinct. "No," she said. "I can't accept such a weathercock, weak-willed individual as husband." She then drew her self up with scornful dignity and left the room.

Dire Prophecy for Next Year.

A prophecy of world-wide bloodshed and horror during the year 1906 had been issued by Mme. de Thebes, of Paris, who was accredited as court diviner to the superstitious Napoleon and Eugenie. It is said that she predicted the downfall of the Second Empire. As her vaticinations for next year the seeress says: Germany is to come very near to a smash early in the year; South America will be convulsed with wild upheavals, and the United States will be decimated by an unquenchable epidemic. Madame sums it up as a strange, extravagant, mad, incomprehensible, astonishing year.

Give Your Stomach Rest.

Nothing will cure indigestion that doesn't digest the food itself, and give the stomach rest. You can't expect that a weak stomach will regain its strength and get well when it is compelled to do the full work that a sound stomach should do. You wouldn't expect a sick horse to get well when it is compelled to do a full day's work every day of the week. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is a perfect digestant and digests the food regardless of the condition of your stomach. Relieves indigestion, belching, sour stomach, and all stomach disorders. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King Street.

Shot in the Back.

W. M. Sherman, of Cushing, Me., was shot in the back, hourly, day and night, for three months; by the shooting, tearing and racking pains of Kidney Inflammation. He writes: "I used three bottles of Electric Bitters, and know that they have permanently cured me, for I feel like a new man. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all sufferers from kidney trouble." It's just as sure to relieve and cure malaria and all stomach and liver complaints, general debility and female weaknesses. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggist; price 60c.

MONDAY EVENING, DEC. 11, 1905

Secretary Shaw has undertaken the titanic task of reforming the ways of the government clerk. According to the Secretary, the average government employe in Washington is shiftless; he doesn't save money and his debts are too large in proportion to his assets. Hence the need of reform. Intimation that the Iowa aspirant for the presidency in 1908 had something up his sleeve came recently when the Secretary sent out a circular requesting information from the various clerks as to their income, bank account and expenses. The clerks were badly rattled at first, fearing undue prying into their private affairs. They learned, much to their relief, however, that their names did not have to be signed to the estimates of their own outlays as compared with their incomes. Evidently, Secretary Shaw has already received sufficient evidence of the average clerk's mode of living to make his reform scheme seem worth while. So imbued was he with his plan of elevating those employees to positions of opulence that he has given vent to his views in his annual report. What he says is not very complimentary to the clerks:

"The atmosphere of the Department is not at all favorable to the accumulation of savings. The average clerks live to the limit of his income, and many are in debt. There is probably no city in the world where the rate of compensation for ordinary services is as high as in Washington, and there is certainly no city of its size in this country where savings banks are as small."

Every word of this is absolutely correct but that the Secretary's observation will be heeded by any material number of government employees is not believed.

The action of Congress last session in making it an offense punishable by dismissal from office, fine and imprisonment for the head of any executive department to send to Congress an estimate for a deficiency appropriation that is not required by law enables the present Congress to start with the phenomenal record of but one deficiency estimate before it. This is an estimate from the Secretary of the Navy, and is to provide $1,000,000 for repairs to the steam machinery of naval vessels. It is estimated by the appropriation committees of the Senate and the House that the penalty provision against emergency estimates will save the government many millions of dollars each year. It requires every appropriation to be so divided that it shall be distributed evenly throughout the year for the work to be accomplished.

POSTMASTER GENERAL CORTELYOU says that while a self-sustaining condition of the Postoffice Department would be gratifying, he is less concerned about the deficit than the efficiency of administration. For the fiscal year 1905 the total receipts from all sources were $152,826,585, and total expenditures $167,181,959, leaving a deficit of $14,355,374. But what is a deficit of fourteen millions among friends?

The republican papers would have people believe that the democrats of the House, who only a week ago unanimously re-elected Mr. Williams as their leader, are now in open revolt against his leadership, and say "there is danger that, instead of presenting a solid front against the majority, the minority will be divided, and thus carry on only a guerrilla warfare against the republicans." This is only what they wish.

NOTWITHSTANDING the weekly reports that the Chinese boycott against American goods has been ended, it will be seen that the Chinese guilds at Hongkong yesterday drew up a series of demands, the granting of which would end this boycott!

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.] Washington, D. C., Dec. 11. Speaker Cannon announced the committee of the House today. This will practically complete the organization of that body. The committees will meet during the week for organization and the appointment of sub-committees. Mr. Payne of New York, is made chairman of the committee on ways and means; Mr. Tawney, of Minnesota, chairman of the committee on appropriations; Mr. Jenkins, of Wisconsin, chairman of the committee on the judiciary; Mr. Fowler, of New Jersey, chairman of the committee on banking and currency; Mr. Williams, the democratic floor leader is on the committee on ways and means and on rules. The Virginia assignments are as follows: Mr. Flood, foreign affairs and expenditures in the Department of Agriculture; Mr. Glass, banking and currency and expenditures in the Postoffice Department; Mr. Hay, military affairs and census; Mr. Jones, insular affairs and private land claims; Mr. Lamb, agriculture and expenditures in Treasury Department; Mr. Maynard, industrial arts and exhibitions and merchant marine and fisheries; Mr. Rixey, naval affairs; Mr. Sleep, District of Columbia and expenditures in the War Department; Mr. Southall, coinage, weights and measures, patents and reform in the civil service; Mr. Swanson, was not assigned to any of the committees.

The list presented some minor surprises. The important change comes in increasing the republican membership of each important committee by one. By so doing, the democrats were able to retain their previous numerical strength on the committees. The committees will now consist of two republicans to each democrat. McCleary of Minnesota, who was his rival, for the honor is transferred to him by means, of which Sen. Payne of New York retains the chairmanship. Burleson, of Texas, and Sullivan of Massachusetts are the new democratic members of the ways and means committee. Nearly all the chairmanships remain with those who held them in the last Congress. The change that caused the greatest stir on the minority side was on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, and was dictated by Minority Leader Williams. He removed Shackleford of Missouri, and Lamar of Florida, Hearst men, from the committee and replaced them with Bartlett of Georgia and Russell, of Texas, personal followers and in accord with him on the railroad rate question.

The ways and means committee is not changed on the republican side, with the exception of the addition of McCleary, and the appointment of William Alden Smith, of Michigan. On the democratic side Underwood of Alabama, takes the place of Swanson, elected governor of Virginia, who is left off the committee, and Granger of Rhode Island, succeeds Cooper of Texas, Hearst of New York gets his old place on the labor committee.

The German Ambassador who was a caller at the State Department this morning expressed the view that the reports from Brazil regarding the Pan-American affair had been greatly exaggerated. He said that he had received absolutely no advice from his government on the subject. Charles Richardson, the United States Charge d'Affaires at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, cabled the State Department today a few of the details of the seizure on Nov. 29th at Itajay, Brazil, by officers of the German cruiser Panther of a deserter from the German army. Mr. Richardson, who is several hundred miles from Itajay and whose report to the State Department, he adds, is largely based on rumor, believes that an amicable settlement will be arranged of his dispatch of the sending of Brazilian ships in chase of the Panther. The feeling at the Brazilian embassy in this city today was not at all warlike. On the contrary the officials there seemed to think that the matter would be amicably settled. No news had been received at the embassy to the effect that Brazil had sent her gunboats after the Panther.

In the U. S. Supreme Court this morning Senator George Thurston, of Nebraska, appeared before the court and called its attention to the death of Senator Mitchell of Oregon, whose appeal from his conviction in the federal courts on charges of fraud in connection with land transaction, was pending here at the time of his death. "In case 409," said Senator Thurston, "I suggest to the Court the death of Senator Mitchell." Chief Justice Fuller nodded his head and inserted upon the docket the dismissal of the appeal, which is quashed by the death of the appellant.

In his annual report to the Secretary of the Interior, the Governor of Oklahoma, Hon. T. B. Ferguson, makes an urgent appeal on behalf of statehood. He says: "Oklahoma is qualified for and entitled to statehood. There are in the territory of Oklahoma approximately 800,000 people. These people have come from every part of the United States and represent the best energies and highest possibilities of citizenship, peculiar to all of the States of the American republic. That the people of the territory are capable of exercising in the highest degree the rights of government is a fact self-evident to all who are conversant with the social conditions which prevail here, where we have a cosmopolitan citizenship representing the best standards of intellectual and moral development. The sentiment now prevailing in Oklahoma is for immediate joint statehood with Indian Territory. The proposed State will be very rich in natural resources and possibilities along all lines of development. The Indian Territory has already demonstrated, even under difficulties, a great capacity for progress. The population is largely represented by that hardy, energetic class of American citizens who do things and develop commonwealths when given an opportunity. The report, which occupies nearly a hundred pages, contains a full discussion of the natural resources of Oklahoma, her agriculture, manufactures and system of government. Fully 800 people were at the rooms of Brown and Tolson, auctioneers, this morning, to participate in the first day's sale of the 8,000 packages that had found their way into the Dead Letter Office of the Postoffice Department during the last year. Two-thirds of the crowd were women, and so excited did they become in bidding, that their rivalry exceeded their pocketbooks in some cases. "That woman in the blue hat with the white feather need not bid any more," exclaimed Auctioneer Tolson in anger as the third time she refused to take an article knocked down to her. With all those women, the men stood little chance.

The report of the Merchant Marine Commission accompanying its bill providing for ship subsidies is made public in full today. The decline of our ocean shipping, our one protected industry, it says, has ruined shipowners and shipbuilders along shore from Eastport to Galveston and from San Diego to Puget Sound. President Roosevelt held a conference over immigration this morning with President Gompers of the A. F. of L. and several of his associate labor chiefs. Those who took part in the conference included John Mitchell, Daniel J. Keefe, A. C. Moore, John A. Matfit and Ralph W. Easley. The subject of the recent immigration conference in New York held by the civic federation was brought up and the ground very thoroughly gone over.

Representative Sulzer, of New York, introduced a resolution in the House today solemnly indicting Russia before the court of nations for its inhuman treatment of the Jews. He expresses "deep sorrow, heartfelt commiseration and poignant regret over the deplorable condition of the people of Russia," and especially condemns "the cruel outrages, the unspeakable brutalities, and the unwarranted and wholesale assassinations of Jewish citizens." It is solemnly alleged, he points out, that these terrible crimes are committed at the instigation of the Russian government, have been incited by the ruling classes, and are instigated by high officials for political purposes. Therefore, he moves that the House, "condemning the sentiments of the American people," condemn and denounce these awful outrages as great international crimes against a common humanity, that must be stopped, quickly by the Russian government, "otherwise Russia will stand indicted before the judgment bar of the world as beyond the pale of its civilization."

Among the Virginians seen at the Capitol today was Major Moses Green, a member of the House of Delegates, from Fauquier county. Senator Martin today introduced a number of bills but none of them of general interest. In the House Mr. Rixey introduced petitions for reference to the Court of Claims of the heirs of Jno. P. Wright, of Loudoun; the heirs of Thornton Pollard, the heirs of Gilbert M. Bastable, Wm. G. Edwards, and Robt. D. Embrey, of Fauquier county; also bills for the relief of Jno. W. Fairfax, of Fairfax, and to increase the pension of Isaac C. Frances, of Fairfax. One of the Washington papers of yesterday stated that Mr. Rixey of the Eighth district will likely have to hustle for his seat at the coming election, and it is intimated that Col. James R. Oaton of Alexandria may give him a trial for the nomination. When Mr. Oaton was asked about the matter today he laughed and said it was the first he had ever heard of it.

The rapid influx of Russians to this country is shown by a report issued by the Department of Commerce and Labor, setting forth the immigration for last October. During that month 5,488 Russians landed in this country, an increase of 17 per cent. over October, 1904, and 52 per cent over October, 1903. The entire immigration amounted to 86,758.

Mr. Swanson was not in the House today, having gone to New York on business which will detain him till the latter part of the week. It is understood that he will resign his seat about January 20th next.

The president today sent the following nominations to the Senate: Auditor for the Treasury Department, S. John Abbott, of Delaware; United States Marshal, Aulick of the District of Columbia; Postmaster, Lulu O. Hoge, at Blackburg, Va.; and Emmett W. Brittle, at Wakefield, Va. Chief Engineer Stevens, of the Isthmian canal, has been ordered to Washington from the Isthmus for the purpose of advising the Canal Commission in the consideration of the majority and minority reports of the advisory board of engineers on the question of the type of canal.

Fire Saturday swept Echo Mountain, near Los Angeles, Cal., destroying all the buildings except the Mount Lowe Observatory, and damaging other property. The loss is $200,000. Telephone poles, railroad power-house and much valuable machinery were destroyed. Communication by wire and travel by rail were cut off and the people at the Casino and the railway hotel had to flee on foot to the hills. Twice the flames threatened Mount Lowe Observatory, but hard work saved the building and its valuable contents from more than a scorching.

The peace conference and the so-called Cabinet gag order came in for gentle roasts, and there were many topical songs, on which Vice President Fairbanks, Speaker Cannon, the Cabinet, Congress, the railway rate agitators and the railroads were the subjects.

A Way to End Boycott.

At a meeting of the boycott committee of the Chinese guilds and American merchants at Hongkong yesterday the former drew up the following demands, the granting of which, they say, would be necessary to bring the boycott to an end:

First—A distinct definition of the term "laborer."

Second—That legislation affecting the Chinese must have the approval of the Chinese government.

Third—That American consuls in China be authorized to issue certificates of admission to the United States of Chinese, except laborers, without hindrances, except in cases of fraud.

Fourth—The issue of passports by the Chinese or other governments for submission to American consuls preparatory to the granting of certificates.

Fifth—Medical examination prior to departure to be conducted by one American doctor and one European doctor, the latter to be appointed by the Chinese authorities, with a similar examination on arrival in the United States if found necessary.

The sixth and seventh demands call for most favored-nation treatment of Chinese residents and travelers in the United States.

The eighth demand repudiates exceptional registration.

Ninth—The admission of Chinese laborers to the Islands of Hawaii and Philippines, provided the local authorities are willing.

Tenth—In case of necessary inquiry on arrival there is to be no detention provided security be furnished. Technical errors in papers are not to be considered a bar to admission.

Eleventh—The admission of the families of Chinese residents, the importation of females being safeguarded.

Twelfth—The readmission to the United States of Chinese who have been deported for non-registration on proof of their possession of property in that country or that they are creditors there.

Brazil After Germany.

Facts disclosed yesterday concerning the arrest of the so-called deserter from the German army at Itajay, Brazil, by the officers of the cruiser Panther, indicate trouble between Germany and Brazil.

The orders of the Brazilian admiral sent to look into the case are to demand the return of the prisoner to the city where he was arrested on the tendering of the customary apology to the national flag. That is, the firing of a national salute of twenty-one guns, with the Brazilian colors at the fore peak.

The instructions are so worded that if the German captain refuses to return the prisoner, the Brazilian admiral, in his discretion, may apply such pressure as is necessary to compel compliance with the request. The only pressure he could apply would be detention of the Panther in Brazilian waters under threat of firing on the German ship should she undertake to leave.

Immediately after the arrest of the so-called deserter, the Panther departed for Rio de Janeiro, where she was at the time of the last advice received by the Brazilian government. Thither the three ships are proceeding with all haste, so as to make possible the interview between the captain of his imperial majesty's ship and the rear admiral believed to be in command of the Brazilian craft. It will undoubtedly become a case if the Panther has sailed from Rio de Janeiro.

It is learned that the arrest was made in a hotel in the presence of a large number of persons, and that Steinboffer offered some resistance, so that it is not a case of ordinary snatching or of having induced a German subject, by deception, to place himself in the power of representatives of the sovereign to whom he once owed allegiance. On the contrary, it appears as a case of willful and flagrant disregard of every rule governing intercourse between nations.

Today's Telegraphic News.

Conditions in Russia. St. Petersburg (via Eydtkubnen), Dec. 11.—Dissatisfaction is spreading among the troops because of the Czar's order returning special thanks to the Cossacks for their loyal services, without mentioning the other troops. The Czar's neglect in thus picking out the Cossacks for special mention in ignoring the balance of the army, has been taken up by the revolutionists among the soldiers, and they are using it to the greatest advantage in furthering their cause. They are using the Czar's order to persuade the soldiers that they have been insulted by the Czar; that he no longer believes in their loyalty, and that this has exonerated them from their oath of loyalty.

There is no longer any doubt but that the reactionaries are gaining the ascendancy at Tsarsko-Selo. The Czar has ordered that Pobodenietz, former chief procurator of the Holy Synod, General Ignatieff and other reactionaries to submit reports as to how the country can best be brought back to a condition of tranquility. The central government no longer exists except in name. The Czar's orders are disregarded by nearly all the local officials who are acting wholly on their own authority in dealing with the local affairs.

In an effort to put an end to the postal and telegraphic strike which has so disastrously affected the country, M. Durnova, Minister of the Interior, has announced that $250,000 will be distributed among the employees of the two departments who return to their work. All those who refuse to accept this offer will be dismissed from the service.

A crisis is rapidly approaching in the financial situation in Russia. The seriousness of the situation is shown by the action which has been taken by financiers and capitalists to urge the government to do something which will improve the situation and turn aside the threatened panic.

Indignation meetings were held yesterday and the action of the government was denounced as the final indication that absolutely no faith can be placed in the Czar's reported good intentions.

A new executive council of the workingmen has been elected to take up the work of the leaders who were arrested and full power has been given the new council to direct the revolutionary movement.

General Debullins, the successor of General Treppoff as prefect of police in St. Petersburg, has resigned. It is believed that General Myerhoff will succeed him.

At Gatz, 60 miles southeast of St. Petersburg, peasants burned the property of the Prince Trubetzkoy, and at Wosna the Cossack Castle was captured after the soldiers who defended the place had been disarmed and the inmates were murdered. Afterward the peasants pillaged the whole estate. They then seized a railway train and travelled for some distance along the line, firing all property in the vicinity, including the Moppenhof, Wahltsage, and Sinoopen estates.

Cracow, Poland, Dec. 11.—Advices received here today state that a fresh general mutiny has broken out among the soldiers at Kieff. A new mutiny of sailors and soldiers at Sevastopol is also reported.

Lightship in Distress. Newport, R. I., Dec. 11.—Assistance has been sent to the Nantucket South Shoal lightship which sprang a leak yesterday. Nothing has been heard from the lightship by wireless telegraph since two o'clock this morning, when help was called for. As early as three o'clock yesterday afternoon the water was reported to have reached the fire in the engine room of the lightship. The lightship tender Azalea has gone to the assistance of the distressed craft from New Bedford leaving at 7:30 o'clock last night. It is said here that those few sailors about the dock as the lines were cast off shook their heads and the opinion was general that no ship of the size of the Azalea had any business outside of the headlands on such a night. A gale from the northwest was blowing and the temperature was dropping way below the freezing point.

The revenue cutter Graham also left Boston harbor last night to go to the assistance of the lightship.

The gunboat Hist left here for the lightship early today. The wireless message received from the distressed ship at 2 o'clock this morning read: "Nantucket shoals lightship in distress. Send help from anywhere."

The wind and sea are subsiding today, so that if the lightship is still afloat, the rescue of the crew can be made with less danger and difficulty.

The New Cunarder. New York, Dec. 11.—The Cunard steamer Carmania, the greatest of turbine merchantmen, arrived at her pier in the North river this morning from Liverpool. The vessel reached Sandy Hook lightship yesterday afternoon, but owing to a gale which prevailed a pilot could not board her, and Captain Pritchard decided to remain outside until this morning. Though the Carmania does not rank with the Baltic or the America in point of size, or with the Kaiser Wilhelm III in point of speed, it is said she is distinctive in being the first discard the engines of propulsion in universal use with big ocean vessels since steam amounted to anything. She is propelled by enormous turbine engines. Percy Kutroff, the missing Princeton student, for whom a reward of $5,000 was offered, was a passenger on the Carmania.

Sudden Death. New York, Dec. 11.—Henry R. Sloat, assistant secretary and treasurer of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company, died suddenly at his home last night. Mr. Sloat was at his office Saturday and was apparently as well and cheerful as at any time for months, and no intimation was given by him of illness. He was found dead in bed this morning.

Death of Edward Atkinson. Boston, Dec. 11.—Edward Atkinson, the well known economist, died at the Massachusetts General Hospital at 11:30 this morning. He was seized with an attack of heart failure and was taken to the hospital, where he died ten minutes after being admitted.

Eloped With Father's Bride. Dunbar, Pa., Dec. 11.—Leonard Furnace, near here, has been started by the elopement of George Marshall with his stepmother. Excitement is heightened by the threat of the elder Marshall to shoot his son and wife on sight. Marshall charges that the pair took his savings with them. He travels with a moving picture show, and was away for several weeks, leaving George to protect his wife. Through their constant association they fell in love, and an elopement was planned. George had no money to pay the expenses of a flight, but his father returned with several hundred dollars. It is alleged by Marshall that the pair took this money and other valuables. Marshall, sr., has been married to his second wife but a short time. She is pretty and about the son's age.

New York Stock Market. New York, Dec. 11.—The stock market has developed wonderful strength in recent trading, and although a recession followed the strong opening, the declines made have been almost wholly recovered in all the active stocks. Several issues in the last few minutes have advanced to the highest price of the day. The copper stocks seemed to meet free offerings. Anaconda, after early sales at 150, dropped to 176. Amalgamated Copper reacted from 98 to 96.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, Dec. 11. SENATE.

When the Senate met at noon today, the members gave evidence of the embarrassment under which they have been placed by the death in Oregon of the late associate Justice H. Mitchell, whose end came while he was out under bail pending his appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States from the verdict in the lower court, on the charge of defrauding the government. The colleague of the deceased, Mr. Fulton, entered the chamber shortly before the opening, after a conference with Senate leaders. The papers of the organization have been seized, the government has thrown down the gauntlet to the working masses and aggravated the revolutionary spirit. Two strike breakers, a letter-carrier and another man, were killed, making the first blood shed in the telegraph and postal employees' strike.

Premier Witte's downfall finally becomes more imminent and the rumor is revived that he has resigned. Lieutenant General Mitschenko is now mentioned as the coming dictator.

Corporation Court.

[Judge L. C. Barley presiding.]
The chancery docket was called and cases set.

Upon the request of the Southern Railway Company the court confirmed the appointment of T. H. Toppin, J. W. Garner, E. D. Cornell, S. E. Brown, and E. C. Tesh as police agents.

The grand jury was fixed at eleven with C. H. Yohe as foreman. Judge Barley then delivered his charge to the jury.

The judge after calling attention to the laws granting liquor licenses, those prohibiting the sale of liquors on Sunday and to minors, said:

"It is the duty of the Court to bring to your attention the act approved February 27, 1900, for the purpose of a rigid enforcement of the law prohibiting the sale of adulterated and misbranded foods in the State of Virginia. To this end, it is your duty to make proper investigation and true presentment make of all violations of this law. You are required also to inquire into carefully and true presentment make of all felonies, misdemeanors which have not already been tried, and all violations of the penal laws committed within the jurisdiction of this Court, and of all matters which may be brought to your attention by the Attorney for the Commonwealth. At this time, we have no constable, and I have therefore summoned before your body the Commissioner of Revenue and the Chief of Police, so that you can make full investigation as to the laws."

The grand jury presented the following:
Com. vs. John Ennis; not a true bill. True bills were presented against the following: Com. vs. Huston Burke and Lewis Sikes, assault against William Mankin; against George D. Dove, breaking and entering the dwelling house of Oliver Zell; against Sarah Haskins and Hughes King for the killing of Richard Mills; against William Ennis for stealing clothing from Edward Carter; against Herbert Butler for forging a check.

The grand jury adjourned at 1 o'clock until 2:30.
Edward Dunn resigned as executor and trustee of the estate of Laurence Corbett, deceased, and Annie Corbett was appointed in his stead.

In the matter of the will of Frances P. Snoot, the trial of the case was postponed from the 19th till the 27th of December and a special jury was summoned for that date.

Case of William Ennis, plea of guilty entered and prisoner sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

At 3:30 o'clock the grand jury was still out.

Later the grand jury brought in true bills against Wm. Darley for house breaking and against Charles Williamson for shooting Rudolph Jones, and again retired to their room.

Williamson pleaded guilty and was given one year in the penitentiary.

On Saturday night a wagon from the country which was standing in front of W. P. Woolf & Son's store was robbed of a number of articles. Two strange negroes were seen standing near the wagon and it is believed they carried the plunder away in a bag.

Mr. George Gilbert, who boards at No. 209 Commerce street, reported to the police this morning that a man who claimed to be Dr. Elmer, of Providence, R. I., had robbed him of a gold watch, chain and other articles. Mr. Gilbert stated that the man came to his boarding house last Friday, pretending that he was making arrangements to introduce certain remedies in Alexandria. He was placed in the room with Mr. Gilbert and while occupying the same is alleged to have stolen the articles named above. It is believed that Elmer is in Washington and the police of that city have been requested to look out for him.

Fined Twenty Dollars Each.

Frank Appen was arrested on Saturday last by Officer Henderson charged with assaulting E. W. Brummitt in a north Royal street saloon. The assault was the outcome of a Police Court case last Thursday, in which four men—one of whom was Appen—had been arrested at the instigation of Brummitt charged with an offense. The charge was not sustained and the accused were dismissed. Appen, who was increased at the action of Brummitt, later repaired to a saloon in which the latter was employed and committed the assault. Justice Caton this morning imposed a fine of $20 on Appen.

W., A. & F. C. R. W. Company.

It is said that the Washington, Arlington and Falls Church Railway Company has recently secured right of way through the farm of J. E. Henderson, in Alexandria county, and that, beginning at a point somewhere between Falls Church and Ballston, the road will be reconstructed in order to make a direct line between Falls Church and the new highway bridge across the Potomac river at Washington city. This will bring the electric road about one-half a mile nearer Glenclaryn, one of the largest stations on the Bluemont branch of the Southern Railway.

Mr. Clarence E. Fowler delivered an interesting address at the Opera House yesterday afternoon. In the audience were many persons from Washington. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Watch Tower Bible Society, and literature prepared by that organization was distributed. The object of the society is to stimulate Bible study, especially the prophetic portions of the scriptures, which, it is alleged, are ignored by the great mass of church members in this day.

Colder Weather.

The rainy and cold weather of Saturday last was followed at night by north west winds and yesterday clearing conditions set in. The temperature fell in the meantime and with a high wind rendered outdoor movements other than pleasant. The wind subsided early in the night, but the temperature remained low. The mercury in the thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 32°. Comparatively few people were on the streets yesterday.

Confederate Records.

In his annual report Secretary of War Taft says: "The compilation of the roster of officers and enlisted men of the Union and Confederate armies required by law has been continued. A considerable number of additional original Confederate records received from State officials, historical associations and private individuals has been copied and returned, but even with these additions the War Department collection of Confederate records of military service is far from complete. It is hoped, however, that with the assistance of the governors of the several States from which organization bodies of troops entered the Confederate service the department's incomplete collection of Confederate records will be further augmented in the near future by additional loans of original records."

The Key that Unlocks the Door to Long Living.

The men of eighty-five and ninety years of age are not the rotund well fed, but thin, spare men, who live on a slender diet. Be as careful as he will, however, a man past middle age will occasionally eat too much or of some article of food not suited to his constitution, and will need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets to cleanse and invigorate his stomach and regulate his liver and bowels. When this is done there is no reason why the average man should not live to old age. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Trap For Lover Costs Two Lives.

The Latin Quarter of Paris was Friday the scene of a most poignant love story. M. Alexis le Maul, a young man of 24, fell in love some months ago with a pretty dressmaker of 17, Mlle. Francine Clairin, for whom he took a room in the Rue du Cardinal-le-Moine.

His father, a well-to-do contractor, heard with anger of the liaison, especially when he heard from his son's lip that his affection was serious. The young man could not stand firm against his father's reproaches, and consented to tell his sweetheart's constancy by allowing one of his friends, a law student, to pay court to her.

In a moment of weakness, Francine yielded to the student's importunities and kept a rendezvous with him.

On Friday afternoon M. le Maul, who had been informed of his sweetheart's inconstancy, visited her and taxed her with the fact. She at first denied the charge, but the law student, who accompanied his friend to the door, was called in to prove what he had said. The girl then fell on her knees and with deep remorse begged forgiveness.

The law student left the couple together, in order that M. le Maul might break with the victim of his love.

A few minutes later two shots were heard, and on breaking into the room the neighbors found the lovers lying clasped in one another's arms, each with a bullet in the brain.

On the table were two brief notes. The girl had written: "I had a moment of weakness." The young man had written: "We loved too deeply ever to be separated." Both were dead.

Another "Jack the Ripper."

For weeks a mysterious criminal, whose methods resemble those of "Jack the Ripper," has caused great excitement in Nuremberg, Germany. He would approach women in dark streets and suddenly draw a knife, with which he stabbed them. Within a few days five such cases were reported to the police. A few days ago, a woman, a brewer's wife, was arrested on suspicion of being the criminal. When confronted with his victim they all identified him. The man seems to be insane. One of his victims has died.

Dying of Famine

is, in its torments, like dying of consumption. The progress of consumption, from the beginning to the very end, is a long torture, both to victim and friends. "When I had consumed in its first stage," writes M. Myers, of Cardiff, Md., "after trying different medicines and a good doctor, in vain, I at last took Dr. King's New Discovery, which quickly and surely cured my cough, cold, sore throat, bronchitis, etc. Positively prevent pneumonia. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store, price 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Trial bottle free.

Grip Quickly Knocked Out.

"Some weeks ago during the severe winter weather both my wife and myself developed into the worst kind of a gripe with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. S. Egleston of Maple Landing, Iowa. "Knees and joints aching, muscles sore, head stepped up, eyes and nose running, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, aiding the same with a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and by its liberal use soon completely knocked out the grip."

It is a good plan to take a dose of the Tablets when you have a cold. They promote a healthy action of the bowels, liver and kidneys which is always beneficial when the system is congested by a cold or attack of the grip. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

These goods have been on the market for years, which is in itself sufficient proof of their fine quality and excellence.

We have always used our best efforts to not only keep them up to the standard, but improve them at every opportunity by looking over the tobacco market and purchasing the very best. We do not consider the price; so we get what we want. We also take this opportunity of calling your attention to a new brand of cigars, which we have just started to put on market. This is a clear Havana cigar, made of the finest Havana, and we guarantee it to be equal to any imported cigar made. We recommend this as a Xmas present to the most fastidious. All our popular brands can be had in small 25 box during the holidays.
